Q – I will be 65 soon but do not plan to retire yet. Is there anything I have to do about social security?

A – Even if you plan to keep working, you should file your social security application two to three months before 65. This will give you protection under Medicare as soon as you are 65. Also, it is possible in some cases to pay benefits for at least part of the year even when you work full-time all year.

USCO Announces Two Plants

Richmond based USCO, a manufacturer of factory built housing, broke ground this week for a new manufacturing plant at Remington, Virginia.

The plant will begin operation in March or April, 1971. Initial production calls for approximately two townhouses, apartments or single family dwellings per day. The Remington facility is designed for and will eventually produce four or five dwellings per day.

USCO started production this week in an existing 200,000 sq. foot facility at Smithfield, N.C. A large portion of the production at Smithfield will go to the Southern School Systems. The Modular School Market was pioneered and developed by the Modular Units Division of Usry, Inc. This division of Usry has been incorporated into USCO, a subsidiary of Universal Leaf Tobacco Company.

USCO was recently awarded the contract to build Modular Relocatable Fire Houses in the area of Chesterfield County that is to be annexed by the City of Richmond. These buildings are so designed as to furnish complete living facilities for the firemen on duty. The buildings will be easily relocatable when the need arises.

Ivon Hauenstein, president of USCO, discussing future plans of USCO, said, "Our market at present is the area east of the Mississippi; however, we expect eventually to have a network of twenty to twenty-five plants serving its own area. These plants will be stratigically located across the nation."

S. H. Usry serves USCO as Board Chairman. Other officers are W. R. Usry, Vice President and Director of Sales, Louis Allen, vice president and director of manufacturing.

Never Use Candles When Looking For Things In Closets

Never use lighted candles or matches to search for things in clothes closets and dark corners, the American Insurance Association warned today.

Cautioning that they are equally dangerous, the Association cited the case of a church on Long Island which was completely destroyed a few years ago when a lighted candle came in contact with a curtain.

If you have a dark closet in which there is no light, keep a flashlight handy for use in the closet, the Association suggests.

In fact, says the Association, it is a good plan to have flashlights located strategically around the house for use in case of power failure.

And if you employ a baby-sitter, make sure the sitter knows where the flashlights are.

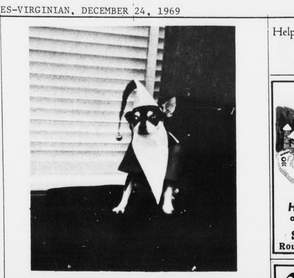
Plant Wins Yule Favor

One plant particularly favored at Christmas in the United States and Canada is the traditional poinsettia with its star-shaped red clusters make it an appropriate symbol of the season.

If it had not been for the interest of an American diplomat, Dr. Joel Poinsett of Charleston, S. C., the poinsettia might never have attained popularity. Serving as the first U. S. minister to Mexico in 1828, Dr. Poinsett discovered this tropical plant.

Impressed with its beauty, he brought it back to the United States and introduced it into cultivation. Later, the plant was named the "poinsettia" in his honor.

Albert Ecke, a California farmer, developed and improved the plant, and first marketed it in 1906. Since then, it has become a favorite Yuletide decoration.



Merry Christmas From Cricket

"Cricket" is small of stature, but in her white beard, pointed Santa Claus hat and red felt suit she can be "ten feet tall" when it comes to dispensing holiday greetings. A pet of county treasurer J. Garland Plunkett, and Mrs. Plunkett she sometimes comes to the office to perch on a special cushion. On Friday she was wearing her full regalia including bells that jingle, jangle, jingle a happy Christmas tune.

Santa Visits Today

This young visitor was having a great time talking with Santa at the Sleepy Hollow Trailer Court, Rt. 460 on Sunday afternoon as Joanna Belter (right) stood by and Kenneth Belter peered over Santa's shoulder. You "instant picture fans" can appreciate what happened next. The photographer "warmed up" the picture in the shelter of an automobile and looked up just in time to see the car drive out which held the boy (and his identity). Anyway, Santa had candy and good wishes and a listening ear for about 300 boys and girls Sunday, and he'll be right at the same spot today (Christmas Eve) from two to six p.m. just before his famous ride over rooftops to the homes of little folks everywhere.

Watch Out!

"This is the danger season when drivers need to be on the alert for older pedestrians," according to Hilte H. Yampol, Executive Director, Metropolitan Chicago Nursing Home Association. He pointed out that longer hours of darkness, fog, snow, sleet and rain make it harder for drivers to see and stop in time.
